THE WAR IN NORTH CAROLINA Gen. Poster's Report to Gen. Halleck.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The following has been received here:

HEADGUARNED DEFF. OF NORTH CAROLINA, Dec. 20, 1862.

To Major General Halleck:
My expedition was a perfect success, burned the railroad bridge at Goldsboro and Moust Oilve, and tore up several miles of the track of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad We fought four engagements, vis: at South west Creek, Kingston, Whitehall and Goldsboro, and whitped the enemy handsomely each time.

Signed J. G. FOSTER, Brig. Gen. Cm'ding. NEW YORE, Dec. 28.—The following iblished in the Richmond papers of th GOLDSBORO, N. C., Dec. 19.—A recon-noissance last night found the enemy encamp-ed two miles below Whitehall. Ramor on the streets this morning says that the reinforce-ments passed Kinston, on the south side of the Neuse river, to succor their skedadding friends.

the Neuse river, to succer their skedaddling friends.

Heavy firing was heard near Kinston, N. C., all day vesterday, (17th,) but we have no particulars during last week. Reinforcements are constantly being sent to Saffolk. It is reasserted that l'eteroburg is to be attacked from Suffolk, while another force was to land at City Point under protection of iron clads. Since Burnside's defeat, it is believed this programme has been changed.

Goldoshoro, N. C., Dec. 16.—An artillery duel at Whitehall, sixteen miles west of this point, on the Neuse River, has been going on all day. The Aboiltionists seemed to have changed their base to the south side of the Neuse. Their cavalry made a raid on Mount Olive Depot, on the Wilmington Railroad, nine miles from this point, tearing up the road, burning bridges and depots, and cutting the telegraph wires.

Railrion, N. C., Dec. 16.—The bill to raise 10,000 troops for State defense passed the second residing in the House to-day. The troops are to be laken from those libble to conscription.

FROM SPRINGFIELD.

Goldeforo sufficient to battle if not capture the invaders. The Richmond Examiner states that the Confederate forces at Goldsboro on Wednesder evening were 17,000, with reinforcements hoursy surving and expected. Gen. Smith is represented as aanguine of success, and it is reported that Lee has telegraphed him that he could spare him, if necessary, 3,000 men. The railroad south of Goldsboro has been torn up for some distance by the enemy, and of course all communication with Wilmington is cut off.

To the fruit-grower this arrangement will be highly acceptable, and tend to cheapen his product in market, and thus create a more steady demand at fixed rates, that shall leave him a reasonable profit.

The freight on a bushel of apples from the south part of the State is about thirty cents by the car load, the draw back on which would be about ten cents. This of liself would soon pay for the largest orchard in Egypt, and at all times bring the southern orchardist in direct competition with more favored localities, even for the cheap autumn apples. If this reduction should be made to all growers, it would result in a grand revolution of all our freight tariffs, but these benefits are exclusively confined to those who purchase lands, and cease the instant the land is paid for.

With those officers I had numerous conversations, during their stay, and all of them had some thing to say about the proclamation. Without exception they denounced it as cruel and barbarous, and dertain to lead to servile insurrection. Col. I flaving been on board the gunboat Calro when she was blown up by a torpedo in Tazoo River, on the 18th inst. I will give gene a statement of how the unfortunate eed-deat occured. The Calro was commanded by Captain Thomas O. Beirfige. We were ordered up the Yazoo to reconcilire the position and strength of a battery supposed to laste been erected by the rebels. She was the flag-ship of the expedition, consisting of the Cairo, Pitteburgh, Signal, Marmors and Ram Queen of the West. When we discovered the torpedoes, boats were sent out, and every precention taken to goard against accident. The other boats abeed of us had got hold of some of them. Captain Selbigs. (thinking he was too near with the Cairo, laid just given the order to back her engines and drop astern, when the torpedo was exploded from a wire leading over the bank, puiled off by some of the rebels stationed there for that purpose. It was an unlooked for sectedard, and no blame could possibly be attached to Capt. S., who used every exertion to save his ship-ran her folic back, got well as haweer, and endeavoeed to hold here. To like Capadile's exercitions the writer and many others are indebted for their lives. When he found he could not save his ship, he gave orders to remove the sick and save all we could of the arms. The enemy was supported in his sitacks by the are of strong batteries of artillery on the right bank of the river, as well as the numerous heavy batteries on the Stafford Hights.

Our loss during the operations since the movement of the enemy began, amounts to about 500 killed and wounded. Among the former, I regret to report the death of the patriothe soldier and stateman, Brig. Gen. Thomas B. B. Cobb, who fell upon our left; and among the latter, that brave soldier and excomplished gentleman, Brig. Gen. M. Gregg, who was very sectously, and, it is feared, mortally wounded, during the states on our right. The enemy to-day has been appearently burying his dead. His troops are visible in their first position in line of battle, but, with the exception of some desultory camonading and fring between skirmishers, be has not attempted to renew the states.

About 550 prisoners were taken during the engagement, but the full extent of his ioss is unknown.

PARSON BROWNLOW AT

FARSON BROWNLOW AT

THE CAPITAL.

(Correspondence of the Cincinnati Gazette.)

Washington, Dec. 16, 1821.

I have been here for the hast st days, looking on at the political world, and the exciting scenes occurring. The weather never was more favorable at this season. Congress is not doing much, and will not until the committees report. The copper-heads—or, more properly, reries, and the city is full of them, both of males and females—are very active in the work of mischief, and equality bold, seeking in every possible way to embarrase the administration, and by indirection to "gives and and comfort" to the rebellion. Some of these traitors are in Congress. They are adespised set of nen, doing all the harm they can to the Government, under the pretent of upholding the Constitution and preserving the sacred rights of the people.

I spent the entire day yeaterday in the House of Representative, latening to their treasonable speeches and villainous resolutions. These tories depresed the unspension of the habous corpus, they have a great horror for the uniawfu sessure and close confinement of civilians—and it grieves their pakriotic sous greatly, to see Constitution of the habous corpus, they have a great horror for the uniawfu sessure and close confinement of civilians—and it grieves their pakriotic sous greatly, to see Constitution of the constitution; that the swepension of the constitution is that the swepension of the constitution is that the swepension of the Constitution; that the swepension of the Constitution; that the swepension of the Constitution are the suspension of the constitution are an accountable to the conficulation and the confirmation of the constitution are the swepension of the constitution; that the swepension of the constitution are the swepension of the const outrage as the arresting of a few traitors at the North by the Federal Government! These corrupt sympathizers with this rebellion, are "for the Constitution as it is, and the Union as it was." and this means the restoration of power to their friends. O, for a whip in every honest band to hash such reasons in the delivery the length and breadth of this land! They bonest hand to lash such rascells maked through the length and broadth of this land! They have no aympathies with the government, unless they can control if, and are allowed to riot upon its spoils. I believe they look with gratification upon all reverses of the Union arms, and they regard the detect of the rebels as the greatest calamity that, ever beful the human race. I have a city, has no more charms for me than in former days. It is a fearful place! The population is said to be double what it was when the war broke out. Speculators and evindiers heve multiplied at a fearful rate, and all trades and professions are living and flourishing at the expense of the government. And every variety of institution is being run hore. There are five theatres, three monkey shows, one circus, "the negro minstrels," 160 houses of doubtful utility, and an indefinite number of liquer shops, to say nothing of about fifty gambling hells, all in full blast, and all doing a profitable business! Preaching, the practice of medicine, and of the law, are obsolete ideas, if not reparded as humbugs!

To the Editors of the N. Y. Tribane:
Su: It is alleged that the present paper famine is mainly due to the lack of "paper stock," the almost total stoppage of importations of rags, and the failure of bagging and other materials for making super formerly obtained from the South. The demand now is for "paper stock," rags have trebled in price, and even rye stow is advertised for by mills near Philadelphia, at 65; cents per ib. or $6.50 per tun. The want is lumediate and pressing, and we have no time to look abroad to the numerous kinds of tropical fibres from which paper can be made, nor yet to go into elaborate experiments on materials near home.

Nor need we do so. We have an lumenase so talismanic word thus attered by the the mysterious apartments were re-from their inviolable seal, and the Duchess entered the harom. The chief directress, the supreme gouvernante of red place, so means the word Harem) way, the Bultsun sieter following the the others in due order behind them. Immension women, skilled in both the leand Turkish languages, acted as iniaring entered the haven, they wandered through an endless succession of apartite, thronged by the gayly attired female ulation, about 2,000 in number, which stitutes the family of this flavord ruler light admitted to this strange little world ough the windows of blue glass added to bewildering effect of the scene, and it med to the librations stranger as if she e moving in the realm of fable. She, in , passed like a vision before the eyes of se caged birds of the East. They hovered and her steps, respect and awe scarce able strain their curlosity, and seeming hardly elieve that fit be being on whom they were my was anything human. ntered the harem, they wandere elaborate experiments on insterials near! Nor need we do so. We have an im-supply of good papers stock, than nerhing could be better at home, insussitately assisted. I refer now to their ards of time of fax which lie outside to milts in Onio, fillnois, etc., and which ford, and preventing a further advance is toks and newspapers, as well as giving or we source of profit to the farmers of the West, is chean and proper machinery for eling the fiast fibers from the shoote or wo part, so that it can be packed and sent to market, ready, or nearly ready, for the pamker, without eating itself up in freight. Now such machinery dose exist; simpleap and portable, and easily manage which, I believe, is destined to work an tire revolution in the production and ma facture of flax. I alimbe to the newly-inved Sauford & Mallory flax, brake and clean (which may be seen at No. 5 White, streom No. 30.) and which at a single operativemoves fully four-fifths of the shoote, woody substance, amounting to from skity or substance, amounting to from skity

THE COURT-DIRRCTERSS.

The Court-Directress is entitled to a word of special menition. He office is twofold. To her is committed the whole government of the little state, and the duty of filling wasnings. The first task, though not impeded by Democratic ideas, is by no means a light one. Plower bushes planned so hear each other, will get their branches rubbed together occasionally. The second office is one of public responsibility, and she is held answerable to the highest tribunal for the wives she selects for the head of the empire. The gravity of her position did not, however, seem to weight on her spirits, and she perfly expressed to the illustrious stranger her regret that the most beautiful woman in the world, as she declared her to be, was already married; as otherwise she should certainly have selected her for the Saltan. The Duchess promptly replied that she, on the contrary, was most happy in having already a husband whom she dearly loved. This answer was heard with universal satisfaction by the Turksh ladies, who, being thus relieved from the apprehension of a rival, lavished on their guest the most flattering compliments. The Deautiful Circassian pronounced her the pearl of princesses, and extolled the grace of the Saltan in granting them the unprecedented felicity of entertaining such a visitor. ery chizen is about teech. It may be wrote you my ordinary horse-power; requires a kill beyond what any boy may acquired in inhuntes, and may be set up by any ordina mechanic in half a day.

By a prompt application of this mach! (which will easily clean a ton of flax start day), to the vast piles of flax in the Wed, day), to the yast piec or mx in the west, it seems to me, our paper manufacturers may be supplied with an abundance of paper stock of the best kind, and at once, without any change in existing machinery, and without aunching out firto movel and costly experiments on materials which, at best, can only afford an inferior article of paper.

Yours,

a depraved, filthy mind Eyery epithet which a deprayed, filthy mind could conceive is applied to a large class of our most prominent citizens; the men who represent our large business interests, and are prominent in all religious, charitable, and educational enterprises. to be on his list; while others, not american by his emblert, and unreached by his havitations, encry them. The mere utilitarian only is eatisfied with prosperity. All his proofs are mere indications of progress, but presperity does not meet the soul's wants nor satisfy the mind. Others find progress in education and culture, but these, while they supply deficets, are not satisfying and complete. There is a high culture in which there is no 60 dq, and which does not lift man above his own original. Religious sentiment which others claim as the chief element and proof of progress as fantical in its Jecusite as godless culture is athelatic. And yet man must be capable of a true progress. The race must yet realize it. The lifetires already mentioned fail because they compass in their grasp no greater portion of our being than is measured on the dist. They do not comprehend the instincts which presage our immortality or calculate a destiny which is to be elemal.

The future is the real life, and true progress is the fitting preparations for that life-realized in each individual by the attalument of a feedlike character. This is not to be obtained by the spirit of what is in us merely. We are to make the most of what we have, and fied superadas a power of faith, enabling us to step out on to experiences beyond mere human reach. This passing beyond the ascertained and known facts of ordinary life distinguishes heroes from common men.

Thus the Italian estepped out beyond the ascertained and known facts of ordinary life distinguishes heroes from common men.

Thus the Italian estepped out beyond the ascertained when the most of which we have a substituted that he world moved. So, too, the Spantard passed from prophesy to history, and stepped from a known to an unknown continent. With a faith that never failered, after wary pears of discouragement, he set after the continuous.

The grandeur of the step of Progress may sometimes be measured by the antition to a distinct on the point world; is not of inspiration.

It is not wish it, a perfect success.

Ho: Fon CREETERA...—Thousands of little ones will awake at early dawn on the morrow, as good old "Santa Chaus" will have been around distributing his favour with a liberal hand. Be has, we learn, purchased from "Brackett," the famous "Candy Man," an immense apply of Choice Candies, which. "Brackett" has manifectured expressely for the Holldays. "Brackett," has two developments again of the Region of the Holldays. They are at Nos. 89 South Clark street, opposite the Sherman Bosse, and 107 Methodist Church lock, same street. We need not say that "Brack-it's" candice are the purest and best to be found or city, as that fact has long been known to our izens. We recommend parents, guardians, ends, or "any other man," to call on Brackett
